

Supreme Court Justices, Appellate Court Judges, and Circuit
Court Judges Assuming Office Prior to July 30, 1979
(Includes District Court Judges who served prior to July 30, 1979)

Disability Retirement Requirements

If eligible, Justices and Judges (including those who served as a District Court Judge prior to July 30, 1979) who have served five or more years may retire on disability. Previous service as a District Court Judge and/or ERS or TRS transfer service is included in the service requirement of five or more years. The Justice or Judge must be unable to perform his or her duties on a full-time basis due to becoming permanently disabled, either physically or mentally. Proof of this disability must be certified by three reputable physicians.
